GEO Audit Report

www.elitetouchrenovations.au

86/100

Excellent — GEO Readiness Score

Business Type: Local • Pages Analyzed: 41 • Date: 2026-09-12 06:45:33

Executive Summary

www.elitetouchrenovations.au (local) has a solid technical foundation (server-side rendered, 6 security headers, clean URL structure) that makes it highly accessible to AI crawlers. However, the site underperforms in Brand Authority (45/100).

The biggest opportunity: 14 AI crawlers have access (including GPTBot, OAI-SearchBot, ChatGPT-User). Brand signals exist on Youtube, but Reddit and Wikipedia and LinkedIn presence is missing — Wikipedia is the single strongest entity recognition signal for AI models. Schema markup includes HomeAndConstructionBusiness, WebSite, WebPage, FAQPage, BreadcrumbList, CollectionPage, AboutPage, ContactPage, Service, CreativeWork, but Organization schema is missing — critical for entity recognition.

Projected score after implementing priority actions: 100-100/100 (+14-22 points)

Priority actions: 1. Create Wikidata entity for brand recognition (+3-5 points) 2. Build organic Reddit presence in relevant subreddits (+2-4 points)

GEO Score Breakdown

The GEO score is a weighted composite of six key areas that determine how well your site performs in AI-powered search engines.

Formula: $GEO = [AI\ Citability(18\%) + Brand\ Authority(18\%) + Content\ E-E-A-T(22\%) + Technical\ SEO(20\%) + Schema\ Markup(10\%) + Platform\ Readiness(12\%)] \times 1.15 + \text{presence floor, capped at } 100 \rightarrow \mathbf{86/100}$

The six category scores are weighted and summed, then multiplied by a 1.15x calibration factor. Sites clearing 25/100 in at least two categories also receive a presence floor of up to 15 points. Both adjustments are why the headline number is higher than the weighted sum alone — read the six category scores to decide what to fix.

CATEGORY	WEIGHT	SCORE	GRADE
AI Citability	18%	52/100	Poor
Brand Authority	18%	45/100	Poor
Content E-E-A-T	22%	72/100	Good
Technical SEO	20%	84/100	Good
Schema Markup	10%	51/100	Poor

E-E-A-T Analysis

E-E-A-T (Experience, Expertise, Authoritativeness, Trustworthiness) is Google's quality framework. AI search engines heavily weight these signals when deciding which content to cite. Your combined E-E-A-T score is 72/100 (Good).

PILLAR	SCORE	MAX	EVIDENCE SIGNALS
Experience	17	/25	Avg 2358 words/page (in-depth content)
Expertise	11	/25	7 H2 subheadings (structured expertise)
Authoritativeness	17	/25	4 outbound authority links; About / Team page found
Trustworthiness	25	/25	HTTPS enabled; 6 security headers present; Privacy / Terms page found; Contact / Support page found

What This Means

- Experience measures first-hand knowledge signals — case studies, original data, user testimonials.
- Expertise evaluates depth of subject-matter coverage — author credentials, technical accuracy, comprehensive explanations.
- Authoritativeness assesses domain recognition — backlinks from authoritative sources, brand mentions, industry citations.
- Trustworthiness looks at credibility signals — HTTPS, privacy policies, contact information, editorial standards.

AI Crawler Access

AI search engines use crawlers to index your content. Blocking these crawlers means your content cannot appear in AI-generated answers. Out of 14 crawlers checked: 14 allowed, 0 blocked, 0 not mentioned in robots.txt.

Key Findings (8 total)

Issues discovered during the audit, organized by severity. Critical and High severity items should be addressed first as they have the greatest impact on your AI search visibility.

HIGH (3)

FINDING	DESCRIPTION	EFFORT
Thin Service-Area Pages with Near-Duplicate Content	Location landing pages (e.g., Hills District, Inner West, Eastern Suburbs, North Shore) score 51-53 and reuse identical openings. They lack suburb-specific project details, unique Q&A blocks, and differentiated direct-answer formatting, which limits AI engines from selecting these pages over competitors for geo-specific renovation queries.	medium
No Detectable Wikipedia, Wikidata, or Reddit Presence	Brand presence signals show zero Reddit or Wikipedia appearances. ChatGPT and Perplexity heavily weight these corpora for entity verification and citation. Without broad-corpus mentions, the brand is effectively invisible to the authority layers those models rely on, suppressing cross-platform visibility regardless of on-site quality.	high
Identical CTA Blocks Diluting Page Uniqueness	More than 10 gallery and project pages open with the same 48-word top block ("Tell us about the room..."). This near-duplicate repetition across unique URLs weakens per-page topical distinctiveness and can cause AI summarizers to treat gallery pages as interchangeable, reducing the chance any single project is surfaced in a visual or citation result.	low

MEDIUM (3)

FINDING	DESCRIPTION	EFFORT
Missing Author Bylines and Publish Date Schema	The blog contains nine practical, data-rich posts, yet no author bylines or prominent publish dates are visible in the crawl data. For Perplexity and Google AIO, missing date signals reduce freshness weight, and missing author attribution weakens Expertise and Trustworthiness signals for publisher-style renovation guidance.	low
Lack of Structured Pricing and Offer Data	The /packages/ page contains clearly tiered pricing ($18,000 Basic, $25,000 Standard, $30,000 Premium) but no Offer, PriceSpecification, or AggregateOffer schema was detected. Adding structured data here would improve Gemini and Google AIO extraction for cost-comparison answers and local service carousel eligibility.	low

Weak Bing Ecosystem and Discussion Signals	Brand presence shows no LinkedIn, no Reddit, and no detectable IndexNow or Bing Webmaster Tools signals. Bing Copilot and Perplexity rely on Bing index depth, social discussion validation, and LinkedIn entity confirmation; the absence of these limits citation potential in Microsoft-aligned AI interfaces.	medium

llms.txt Present but Likely Lacks Entity Depth	An llms.txt file exists and is valid, which is a strong foundational signal. However, without explicit service scope, licence credentials, package tiers, and location entity mappings, LLM context windows may not fully ingest the site’s unique authority as a wet-area specialist. Expanding the file with structured entity declarations would raise retrievability.	low
Missing HowTo and ItemList Schema for Process Content	Service and homepage content describe a clear process (free measure → fixed quote → demolition → waterproofing → tiling → final clean). This sequence is well-suited for HowTo and ItemList schema but is currently unmarked, missing opportunities to capture Google AIO list snippets and step-by-step answer boxes.	low

Prioritized Action Plan

Recommended actions organized by implementation timeline. Quick wins can be done immediately with minimal effort. Medium-term actions require more planning. Strategic initiatives are long-term investments.

Citability Analysis

Citability measures how likely AI systems are to quote or reference your content in their answers. A score of 70+ means your content is structured in ways that AI models prefer to cite. Your average score across 41 pages is 52/100 (Poor).

Brand Authority Analysis

AI models build entity understanding from brand mentions across high-authority platforms. A strong brand presence on these platforms increases the likelihood that AI will recognize, trust, and cite your content. Brand searched: au.

Platform	Present	Score	Weight	Details
YouTube	Yes	85/100	25%	YouTube channel found at https://www.youtube.com/@au
Reddit	No	0/100	25%	No Reddit presence detected
Wikipedia	No	0/100	20%	No Wikipedia or Wikidata presence found
LinkedIn	No	35/100	15%	LinkedIn cannot be verified automatically (anti-bot protection) — assumed baseline presence. Verify manually for accurate score.
Others (GitHub)	Yes	60/100	15%	GitHub: 5 repo(s) found — also verify Quora, Stack Overflow, G2, Trustpilot manually

Brand Recommendations

1. Keep YouTube channel active with regular uploads
2. Add product demos and tutorials
3. Participate authentically in relevant subreddits
4. Avoid promotional content — be helpful and specific
5. Assess notability criteria for Wikipedia article creation
6. Create a Wikidata item with key properties (instance of, official website, social media)

Schema & Structured Data

Schema markup helps AI systems understand the type and context of your content. JSON-LD is the preferred format for both Google and AI search engines.
