H1: Bathroom Renovations Sydney

Bathroom Renovations Sydney

Full bathroom renovations, designed and built by a Sydney family business.

A bathroom is one of the most technically demanding rooms a Sydney home will ever ask you to renovate. Waterproofing, electrical zoning, plumbing, tiling, joinery and glazing all converge in a small footprint, and the standard of the build is decided in the details you will never see in a photo.

Elite Touch is a Sydney-based family business that designs and builds full bathroom renovations from a single point of accountability, its the same team from on-site quote through final handover all built to the current Australian Standards.

What we mean by a "full bathroom renovation"

A full bathroom renovation is a strip-out-to-studs rebuild.

Everything comes out — tiles, fixtures, the waterproofing membrane, sometimes the joinery and walls themselves — and the room is rebuilt from the substrate up. This is different from a "bathroom refresh" (replacing fixtures and tapware while keeping the existing membrane and tiling) and different again from a "reconfigure" (moving walls and relocating plumbing).

A typical full Elite Touch renovation in Sydney includes:

- Complete strip-out of the existing bathroom
- Asbestos testing where required for older builds
- New wet-area waterproofing to AS 3740-2021, certified
- Plumbing rough-in and fit-off by a NSW-licensed plumber, with Certificate of Compliance lodged with NSW Fair Trading
- Electrical re-wire and lighting upgrades by a licensed electrician to AS/NZS 3000, with wet-area zoning observed
- Wall and floor tiling — porcelain, ceramic, or natural stone
- Joinery — custom vanity, recessed niches, mirrors, mirror cabinets
- Glazing — frameless or semi-frameless shower screens to AS 1288 and AS/NZS 2208
- WELS-rated tapware, showerheads and toilet suites
- Heated towel rail or heated flooring if specified
- Painting and finishing
- Final inspection, defect resolution, and handover with all compliance certificates

How long does a bathroom renovation take in Sydney?

Most Sydney bathroom renovations run between three and five weeks on site, with the program shared with you before work starts.

- Refresh package (same layout, new finishes): 1–2 weeks
- Full renovation (same footprint, everything new): 3–5 weeks
- Reconfigure (walls or fixtures move): 5–7 weeks
- Premium build (natural stone, custom joinery, complex glazing): 5–6 weeks

Older Sydney homes that are federation, art deco, mid-century may sometimes require additional days for unexpected work uncovered at strip-out (rotted timber, non-compliant plumbing, asbestos). A good quote includes a clear position on how those scenarios are handled.

What does a bathroom renovation cost in Sydney?

Pricing varies with footprint, materials, and complexity. As a guide for Sydney houses or apartments

- Refresh package: $8,000–$20,000
- Full renovation, standard finishes: $25,000–$40,000
- Full renovation, premium finishes (natural stone, custom joinery): $40,000–$60,000
- Reconfigure or extension: $55,000+

Why bathroom renovations go over budget and how we prevent it

Five things cause most Sydney bathroom renovations to drift over budget. Every one of them is avoidable with good preparation.

1. Discovering rot, mould or non-compliant plumbing during strip-out. We allow a contingency in every quote and inspect substrates as soon as the room is open.
2. Asbestos in pre-1990 homes. Testing before quoting protects the budget; remediation is priced separately and transparently.
3. Changing fixture choices mid-build. We lock in PC items before fit-off so substitutions are by exception, not by default.
4. Moving plumbing or fixture locations after rough-in. The design is signed off before rough-in begins.
5. PC items chosen outside the quoted allowance. Allowances are clearly stated in writing, so the budget for each tile, tap and basin is on the page.

How we work, what we build to

1. Once we've discussed and signed your renovation contract, we'll request a deposit to begin which is what % normally? 30% Deposit
2. You'll receive an email outlining the agreed progressive payment schedule. Which is what normally? 30% 40% 30% split
3. We'll then coordinate a start date for the renovations, with our team arriving on-site to strip out your existing space and commence the fitting of your new design.

Elite Touch is a NSW-licensed building business. Every bathroom we build is delivered against the relevant Australian Standards and the National Construction Code, with the licences, insurances and certificates that compliant residential work requires:

- Wet-area waterproofing to AS 3740-2021, with membranes compliant with AS 4858
- Plumbing and drainage to AS/NZS 3500, completed by a NSW-licensed plumber, Certificate of Compliance lodged with NSW Fair Trading
- Electrical installations to AS/NZS 3000 Wiring Rules, completed by a licensed electrician, with wet-area zoning observed
- Glazing — shower screens, mirrors — to AS 1288 (Glass in buildings) and AS/NZS 2208 (Safety glazing materials)
- Slip resistance for wet-area floor tiles classified in line with AS 4586 and HB 198
- Water-efficient tapware and fixtures registered under WELS (Water Efficiency Labelling and Standards Act 2005)

Frequently asked questions

Do I need council approval for a bathroom renovation in Sydney?

Most like-for-like bathroom renovations within an existing footprint do not require development consent under the State Environmental Planning Policy (Exempt and Complying Development Codes) 2008. Renovations that move walls, alter the external envelope, or sit inside a heritage conservation area may require approval. Heritage-listed properties almost always do. We assess this at the on-site quote stage so you know before signing.

Can I live in the house during the renovation?

Yes, in most cases. If yours is the only bathroom in the home, we discuss a temporary arrangement up front rather than mid-build. The strip-out week is the most disruptive — dust, noise, no access to the room — so households with one bathroom usually plan around that week specifically.

Do you supply the products, or do I?

Either works. Our designer can curate fixtures, tiles and joinery for you from our trusted supplier network, or you can source products yourself. If you supply your own products, we review them against the design and the build before they arrive on site so there are no incompatibility surprises.

What standards do you build to?

Every Elite Touch bathroom is delivered to the current Australian Standards relevant to wet-area work — AS 3740 (waterproofing), AS/NZS 3500 (plumbing), AS/NZS 3000 (electrical wiring rules), AS 1288 and AS/NZS 2208 (safety glass), AS 4586 (slip resistance), and the National Construction Code Volume Two. WELS-registered fixtures are used throughout for water efficiency.

Is waterproofing really that important?

It is the single most important part of the build. A failed waterproofing membrane is the leading cause of bathroom-related damage to Sydney homes — mould inside cavities, rotted framing, damaged ceilings on the floor below. AS 3740 sets the technical requirements, and a Certificate of Compliance from the waterproofer is issued for every Elite Touch bathroom.

What warranty do I get?

In NSW, residential building work is covered by the statutory warranties under section 18B of the Home Building Act 1989 — six years for major defects and two years for non-major defects from the date of completion. Specific products (tapware, electricals, joinery) carry their own manufacturer warranties, which we hand to you at completion.
